About All Night Graduation Celebration

Graduation night is one of the highest risk nights for a teen. Students attend parties throughout the year, but peer pressure is highest when there is an event this momentous to celebrate. The All Night Graduation Celebration was one community’s response to teenage alcohol-related deaths around graduation time. This will be the 30th All Night Graduation Celebration at Mason — and is a night filled with fun and games: a casino, henna tattoos, remote control racecars, and carnival-type games as well as food, prizes, and a comedian. The All Night Graduation Celebration is part of the George Mason High School PTSA (EIN #54-1430852), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

Teens are at a higher risk for accidents when they drink and drive. The combination of alcohol and their inexperience driving makes it especially dangerous.

The ANGC is:

For Graduating Seniors

- The celebration is alcohol-free and drug-free, so no one is under pressure to drink or use drugs.
- EVERY graduate has a celebration to attend on graduation night and the graduates are together to celebrate as a class, perhaps for the last time.

For Parents

- Parents know their children will not be using alcohol or drugs at this event.
- Parents know where their children are and that they are supervised.

For Community

- The “children” of our community celebrate their graduation safely.
- The community can feel safe as the new graduates are celebrating “off the road” on graduation night.
- The community joins in congratulating the newest graduates.
